Pufferfish are world leaders in the spherical digital displays market, designing and producing unique solutions for a global customer base.

Our story began with wowing audiences in the events industry, when our innovative displays formed the centrepiece of Coldplay's record-breaking 'Viva La Vida' world tour in 2008.

Since then, not only have our incredible PufferSpheres® grown in size but our product family has expanded to include hardball acrylic systems, the world's first commercial interactive sphere, hemispherical displays, and powerful proprietary software.

We have an unrivalled reputation for premium application and content development services.

Our customers sit across many diverse industries and span the globe, with our solutions already having been sold into 37 countries.

Over the last five years, we have consistently produced sales of over £1m a year from inbound enquiries and are now transitioning to managed service contracts, which generated sales of £1.4m last year.

Investing in early stage businesses is high risk and you may lose some or all of your invested capital. Other risks include illiquidity and lack of dividends. These investments are not suitable for all investors, they should only be made as part of a diversified portfolio and they are targeted exclusively at sophisticated investors who understand these risks. Prospective investors should read the documents provided in relation to any specific investment opportunity in their entirety and consult with their own advisers before deciding whether to invest.

The levels and basis of taxation depend on an individual's circumstances and may change in the future. In addition, the availability of tax relief depends on the company invested in maintaining its qualifying status. There is likely to be a lack of operating history upon which to evaluate performance, and investors should also be aware that past performance is not a reliable indicator or guarantee of future performance and should not be relied on when considering investment. Investors' interests are unsecured and rank subordinate to other creditors. The lack of corporate listing for any private company may make it difficult or impossible for shares to be sold and prices may also fluctuate significantly.
